

IRISH SETTLEMENT TERMS ANNOUNCED

Lloyd George Defines Three Stipulations to Be Met by All Nations.

NO NEW POLICY DECLARED

Statement Interpreted as Renewal of Effort to Compromise.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN AND NEW YORK HERALD, Copyright, 1920, by THE SUN AND NEW YORK HERALD.

LONDON, Aug. 16.—Hopes of an important statement from the Government on the Irish question which reports from Dublin last week said would be made by Andrew Bonar Law, Government spokesman in the House of Commons, went a-glimmering to-night when the House adjourned subject to a call from the speaker. Mr. Law did not refer to the Irish question till adjournment was moved, confining himself to a defense of Premier Lloyd George's policies in the Polish multitude.

Also the Premier stood by his guns—the Government's home rule bill plus the "bill for the Restoration of Order in Ireland." But once more he waved an indefinite olive branch in one hand and a lighted match in the other. He reiterated his demand for separate government in the six southern counties of Ireland, thus apparently discounting reports from Belfast and Dublin that the Ulsterites themselves were willing to yield and were about to break off from Sir Edward Carson's leadership.

The Premier, in response to a question by Horatio Bottomley (Independent), declared that the Government's attitude toward the Sinn Fein and practically admitted that they represented a majority of Irish opinion. On the subject of three conditions—the protection of Ulster, no secession and the right of Great Britain to defend the islands and insure their safety in war—the Government, he said, was not yet prepared to accept them. The Government accepted the Government's bill as far as it went, but the House of Lords, when the House of Lords passed the second reading of the Irish coercion bill on August 5, protested: "If you pass the bill you may kill England, not Ireland."

No reply was made to him and he left the House. When Earl Curzon, acting on the request of the House of Lords, sent him for an apology for an "affront" to the House, "aggravated rather than diminished his recent insult to the Lords."

Alexander M. Carlisle, standing to the throne when the House of Lords passed the second reading of the Irish coercion bill on August 5, protested: "If you pass the bill you may kill England, not Ireland."

No reply was made to him and he left the House. When Earl Curzon, acting on the request of the House of Lords, sent him for an apology for an "affront" to the House, "aggravated rather than diminished his recent insult to the Lords."

"I hope not," replied the Premier. "I would be sorry if any condition ruled out a majority of the Irish people. They are now claiming to talk on behalf of a majority of the Irish people. If they are prepared to frankly accept these conditions we are prepared to consider any proposal that they may have."

This statement by the Premier is regarded here as leaving the door open for renewed efforts to reach a compromise.

It is the consensus that it makes certain negotiations between the various Irish factions and the Government before Commons reconvenes.

What is a difficult element in the situation is that, pursuant with the new crime bill lighting and bitter feelings apparently already manifested in Ireland, as is evidenced when a serious outbreak occurred in Dublin last Saturday simultaneous with reports of vigorous reprisals by troops and the police throughout the island.

LORD MAYOR OF CORK IS DECLARED GUILTY

Court martial Is Defied by 'Re-public's' Advocate.

CORK, Ireland, Aug. 16.—Terence MacSwenny, Lord Mayor of Cork, was found guilty to-day by court martial of having under his control the secret police cipher.

MacSwenny was also found guilty of having a document in his possession likely to cause disaffection, namely, a copy of the resolution of the Cork Corporation which affirms the Sinn Fein, or Irish Republican Party, and of having made a seditious speech on the occasion of his election.

Major MacSwenny was weak when called before the court as a result of his refusal to take food at the prison. He said: "I am the Lord Mayor of this city and its Chief Magistrate. I declare this court must not those who are fit to stand trial under the law of the Irish Republic."

The trial was conducted under the Defense of the Realm act regulations. The sentence imposed will be promulgated later.

CUSTOMS HOUSE IN DUBLIN IS RAIDED

Thirty Men Search Building; Depart Without Looting.

DUBLIN, Aug. 16.—Thirty armed men this afternoon, avoiding the military guard, raided the Dublin Customs House. They went through the buildings and left in a few minutes without taking anything. The hall porter was made to face the wall by one of the raiders, who threatened to shoot him if he tried to run. The raiders passed through the buildings or acted as sentries.

The success with which republican volunteers maintained order in Dublin Sunday night when they were warned of the possibility of trouble, and the way they endeavored to protect the soldiers and disperse crowds Saturday night, are taken as evidence that Saturday's disturbances were not part of the Sinn Fein campaign, but were caused entirely by a mob aroused over the killing of a boy named Farrell in the rear.

The bitterness it is the general belief, will be increased by the events of the week end, the worst of which, in the eyes of Irishmen, was the killing of Patrick Lynch on Saturday night. According to the evidence of his sister, Lynch was taken from his house by soldiers and later was found dead in the roadside. Another witness says he heard soldiers cry "Halt!" when he heard shots and says he found Lynch dead.

News alleging that hunger striking Sinn Fein prisoners are being allowed to die is also arousing the people.

CARLISLE IS BARRED BY HOUSE OF LORDS

Irish Councillor Punished for Insult by Curzon.

LONDON, Aug. 16.—Alexander M. Carlisle, a prominent Belfast Irishman and Privy Councillor, has been debarred from the privileges of the House of Lords by a resolution passed by that body to-day. Action in the matter was requested by Earl Curzon, the Foreign Secretary, who declared that Mr. Carlisle's letter in reply to a demand sent him for an apology for an "affront" to the House, "aggravated rather than diminished his recent insult to the Lords."

Alexander M. Carlisle, standing to the throne when the House of Lords passed the second reading of the Irish coercion bill on August 5, protested: "If you pass the bill you may kill England, not Ireland."

No reply was made to him and he left the House. When Earl Curzon, acting on the request of the House of Lords, sent him for an apology for an "affront" to the House, "aggravated rather than diminished his recent insult to the Lords."

Special to THE SUN AND NEW YORK HERALD.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 16.—Thomas E. Mitten, president of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company, has resigned from the board of directors of the Union Traction Company, the principal underlying company of the system.

The P. R. T. Company wished to borrow $100,000,000, an equipment trust obligation, under the conditions of its lease of the Union Traction Company. It is compelled to obtain the sanction of the latter company before it may pledge the property as security.

In attempt of the to the proposal/the Union Traction directors demanded as security for the loan all the assets and liabilities owned or held by the parent company. To this Mr. Mitten refused to agree and resigned.

He also indicated that the recent efforts of bankers to force a higher fare in this city had dropped out in a new phase that was striking at the very foundation of the system. "The world will not do, would not only result in higher fares being forced higher but would also very likely wipe out the P. R. T. Company."

Mitten has insisted on a straight five cent fare, and has operated the Philadelphia lines without an increase and at the same time has paid high wage increases to his employees.
